

WEST Ham super striker David Cross has signed for Match

And today we begin his dramatic Weekly! life story — plotting the 30-year-old striker's rise from obscurity to stardom.

From humble beginnings at lowly Rochdale as a raw 18-year-old, David has emerged as one of the game's great goalscorers with one of the most fashionable clubs in the country.

He tells it all in Match, where he has joined a star-studded team that includes England stars Kevin Keegan, Paul Mariner, Glenn Hoddle, and Steve Coppell and Scotland's World Cup star Graeme Souness.

This week David recalls how he stumbled into professional football at the age of 18 and the part he played in Rochdale's finest

Noel Cantwell . . . he was the first famous football figure to give me a boost when he was manager of Coventry.

htened

UNLIKE most boys I never actually considered becoming a professional footballer.

Although I played for the district boys team in my native Heywood in Lancashire, I was never offered trials by any of the leading clubs in the area and that tended to confirm my belief that football wouldn't be my profession.

In fact, I was probably the only lad in the side that wasn't approached, yet, as it turned out, I'm the only one who has made a name for himself.

In the end it was Fourth Division Rochdale who eventually invited me down for training sessions and I was quite satisfied with that arrangement for my intention at the time was to go to university.

But, after getting 'A' levels in history and geography, I decided to ditch my university plans.

On the day I told the headmaster I was quitting school, Rochdale coach Gordon Hurst overheard me telling a colleague about it at training and he informed manager Len Richley.

As a result, I was summoned to the manager's office and he offered me professional terms. So that was how I literally stumbled into the world of professional football.

Before that I was quite happy picking up 'ten bob' expenses from playing with Rochdale Reserves on a Saturday afternoon. At the time I thought that was great.

Rochdale clinched promotion that season (1968-69) and I reported for full-time training in the summer, by which time Dick Conner had taken over as manager.

He governed my attitude because I was never determined to be a professional footballer like a lot of boys.

You now get lads of 13 joining big clubs and they feel sure they are going to be footballers because they've been picked up so young.

MY PART IN ROCHDALE'S FINEST HO

THE biggest day in Rochdale's history came on January 11, 1971, when we knocked First Division Coventry City out of the FA

It was only my second season in League football and I received national recognition for the first time by scoring one of the goals in our shock 2-1 win at Spotland.

The match was played on a Monday afternoon because the then Coventry manager Noel Cantwell had objected to our floodlights for some unknown reason.
Before the game Noel, who I had seen play for Manchester United, had mentioned me in the national press, saying that the 'big boy Cross' could cause a few problems for

That kind of recognition was great for me because it was the first time I had received such a boost from a well-known football figure. To cap it all, I played quite well that afternoon and scored the first goal. It helped my confidence to know that I could score goals against top class opposition.

The 14,000 crowd -Rochdale's biggest for years
— went wild when I scored, but after Coventry had equalised I thought they would swamp us. As it turned out Dennis Butler snatched our winner to complete a great day for the club.

Noel Cantwell had criticised Rochdale before the game and we were extra keen to get back at him, so it was a great feeling when we had beaten them.

Jeff Blockley marked me that day and, though I didn't know at the time, within three years I was to be part of the Coventry set-up myself.

Our cup glory was rather shortlived. In the next round we came crashing down to earth with a 5-0 defeat at Colchester following a 3-3 draw at Spotland.

 HARSH *****

But that was never part of my make-up because I didn't sign for a club until I was 18.

Dick Conner was a very harsh man because, having been a good player himself, he didn't suffer fools, and when I joined straight from school, I couldn't play to his standards.

He frightened me at times with his bullying, but on reflection that kind of harsh approach was what I

At that age, that kind of rough attitude was either going to kill or cure me. Luckily it cured me and I didn't give up.

Dick was a very constructive coach, but he lived on a short fuse all the time.

but I owe Rochdale

When Peter Madden, the current manager (incidentally, Dick Conner is now back as assistant manager), joined the coaching staff he was completely different. He would put his arm around me and persuade me to do this or that and that kind of approach also helped.

So I have a lot of time for both men because in their different ways they set me on the right road.

I'll always remember my first day as a professional footballer. It poured with rain and we returned from the moors soaked to the skin.

Bobby Downes, who joined the same day after spells with West Brom and Peterborough, told me that at Peterborough they always had a change kit for the afternoon session.

But that wasn' the case at Rochdale as I quickly found out.

Bobby Downes, the former Watford and Barnsley forward, joined Rochdale on the same day as myself.

everything

We had to hang our kit on the hot water pipes in the boiler room, and then put it back on again a couple of hours later.

Looking back, the facilities weren't that good, but it was all I knew at the time.

I was substitute for the opening game of the season and I came on for the last ten minutes in the 3-0 home defeat by Orient who went on to win the Third Division title that year.

My first goal came in the 2-1 home defeat of Plymouth when I came on as substitute just before half-time, but my full League debut was in the 1-1 home draw with Southport in February.

I played reasonably well that day which surprised me because I was very nervous having spent all week worrying how I would cope playing 90 minutes at a level of soccer that was new to me.

It was described in the local press as a 'promising debut'. I was never a prolific goalscorer

I was never a prolific goalscorer at Rochdale — as my record of 21 goals in 59 League games shows — because I didn't have the awareness that I have now.

I have never taken anything for granted, unlike some of today's apprentices who are rather cocky and flash on the ball.

I often wonder what's going to happen to them if they don't make it with a big club and have to go to a place like Rochdale.

They won't know what's going on because they have always been used to the best.

I'm not saying that my arrival in football was the right method, but starting at a club like Rochdale suited me at the time.

I'm sure that if I had joined a club like Manchester City or Manchester United as an apprentice I would have been lost and after a year would probably have hated it so much that I would have thrown in the towel, mainly because the other youngsters would have been a lot better than

But at Rochdale I was doing things and getting into the first team.

I enjoyed it at Rochdale and I owe them everything for the start they gave me in professional football.

1,000 beers on Watford

MORE than 1,000 free pints of Benskins beer and one pint of lemonade were drunk in celebration of Watford's 3-0 victory over Orient.

Benskins, who own Watford's Vicarage Road ground, have just launched a new scheme called the Pennant Supporters Club at over 100 pubs in the Watford

Membership is free and if Watford draw or win on a Saturday, members are entitled to a free pint the following Thursday.

But John Barnes, whose two goals helped Watford to their victory over London rivals Orient, had to be content with a glass of lemonade — he's only 17!

Rush breaks his duck.

IAN Rush has broken his League duck for Liverpool.

The former Chester striker scored his first League goals for the European Champions in the 3-0 home defeat of Leeds.

His two goals completed quite a week for the Welsh international who also scored two goals a few days earlier in the 5-0 League Cup drubbing of Exeter.

Reward for unlucky Falco

MARK Falco, the unlucky 20-year-old striker whose goals have boosted Tottenham this season, has been named Robinson's Barley Water 'Young Player of the Month' by a national panel chaired by England manager Ron Greenwood.

Mark, who seems likely to miss the next three months with an ankle injury sustained in the League Cup clash with Manchester United, will receive an inscribed silver salver and a cheque for £250 for the charity of his choice.

And half that total have come from the penalty spot!

Binney's back in business

FRED Binney, once the scourge of Third and Fourth Division defences, is back in business.

The 35-year-old Hereford coach came out retirement to help the club out of an injury crisis, and he duly scored to chalk up his 200th League and cup goal.

Fred scored with virtually his first touch after coming on as substitute.

The other goal came from John Dungworth, the £100,000 striker who has joined the club on loan from Second Division Shrewsbury.

Seven goal London treat

THE London Football Association celebrated its centenary with a seven goal bonanza at Highbury between a London XI and an England XI.

England took the honours 4-3 with goals from West Ham's Paul Goddard, Aston Villa winger Tony Morley, skipper Kevin Keegan and Liverpool's Terry McDermott.

The London goals came from West Ham skipper Billy Bonds, Fulham striker Gordon Davies and Queen's Park Rangers' defender Glenn Roeder.

PROGRAMME BONANZA

THE sixth Scottish Football Programme Fair is being staged in Glasgow on Sunday.

More than 2,000 enthusiasts are expected to visit the fair which is being held in the McLellan Galleries, Sauchiehall Street, from 11 am to 4 pm.

Programme dealers and club souvenir shops from both sides of the border will be selling programmes and momentoes, alongside an exhibition of rare. historic and current programmes.

The Reds cash in EUROPEAN champions Liverpool will receive a cool £75,000 for playing the South American Cup holders in Tokyo in December for the unofficial World Club Championship.

That's their guarantee for the Sunday, December 13 showdown, and there could be more cash to follow from gate receipts and massive television rights.

Japanese car firm Toyota are again sponsoring the clash that had its inaugural outing last season when Nottingham Forest lost 1-0 to Uruguayan side Nacional.

Said Liverpool chairman John Smith: "We are certainly going all out to make this match in Japan the most memorable game in our history.

As yet, Liverpool's opponents are still to be decided.

Six teams are in the running, including last year's winners, Nacional.

The others bidding for the glamour trip are Deportivo Cali (Colombia), Club De Deportes Cobreloa (Chile), Penarol (Uruguay), Flamengo (Brazil) and Jorge Wilsterman (Brazil).

JOHN Gidman, Manchester United's new full-back, says his summer move to Old Trafford from Everton has given him a new lease of life. "I'm playing better now for United than I ever did for Everton," says the 27-year-old England international.

"It takes a while to settle in a side, but I've come here and already I feel completely at home. The players are great, not only on the field, but off it

Now John, part of a defence that's got the best record in the First Division, still hopes to get recalled to the England squad after a four-year absence

"I think sometimes you get a bit frustrated when you see the squads picked showing very little change each time," says the full-back who was involved in an exchange deal with Mike Thomas.

The England skipper reveals his thoughts on our World cup future in another of his exclusive Match Weekly columns.

I NEVER thought I would ever walk off a football pitch after being whacked 4-0 and still feel happy.

But that's just what happened to me this season!

It was Southampton's game at Birmingham and Frank Worthington and Neil Whatmore and just grabbed two goals apiece against us.

But the reason for my warm feeling inside had come about half an hour earlier out on the pitch.

We were 3-0 down and struggling when the loudspeaker at St Andrews announced:

Left: Birmingham's Neil Whatmore — he scored two goals as Southampton lost 4-0 at St Andrews but I came off the field happy despite defeat.

thought I had lost after our defeat in Norway had been restored to me.

I thought we had blown it. I thought my chance of playing in the world's greatest football showpiece had gone. I wasn't an easy man to live with.

would have to be a fool to back any of the teams to go to Spain.

Even now we don't know how the group will stand when we play our last game against Hungary. I think the Swiss are well capable of beating Rumania again when they play on November 11 and if they do then we need only get a point at Wembley.

It's certainly not over yet.
But I am sure England won't be going out against Hungary with a draw in mind. A win guarantees us a place in Spain and that's all the incentive any of the players needs. Despite our setbacks against Switzerland

Despite our setbacks against Switzerland and Norway, we know we are capable of beating Hungary.

They hold no fears for us and it is up to the players to make sure the game doesn't go like that vital qualifier against Poland in 1973 when we were so much on top but just couldn't get the goals to take us into the World Cup Finals.

A win of any kind would be tremendous, but to win in real style would be a bonus not just for the team and the manager but also for the fans.

It would be fantastic to turn in the kind of performance that would make people in this country believe in us again, to show them what we are really capable of. That would be a super springboard to Spain.

We are due for a change of luck at Wembley. The pressure we have had on teams must soon be turned into goals — and I have to play my part in doing that

To my mind there are three really outstanding teams in the world at the moment — Brazil, Argentina and West Germany. The 'big three' are all pretty much at their peak, especially West Germany who have been at the top for three or four years. These teams may even have reached their

After them, I believe we have as good a chance as anybody and better than a lot. There is certainly no other team for us to fear and there are some that we know we can beat.

So don't count us out. Victory over Hungary could be the start of something big.

If you look at the players who've got us to Spain there's a fair number who played in '78 and their experience is going to hold us in good stead. good stead.

OF PUSH-BIKES!

MITCH

MITCH.

Division One, Old Trafford, Saturday, Oct. 3, 1981.

IT was widely forecast that Sammy McIlroy's place in the Manchester United midfield would be in danger following the £1,700,000 signing of England's Bryan

But the Northern Ireland international aptly timed a brilliant hat trick in the 5-0 rout of Wolves to coincide with the pre-match signing of the young West Brom player

And the pick of the superbly taken trio was the one that clinched his first-ever First Division hat-trick, a viciously struck drive 14 minutes from the end with United on the rampage.

The long-serving United player collected a neat lay-off from Garry Birtles and with time and room to manipulate a shooting position some 25-yards from goal, he sent a dipping, swerving right foot drive over the groping arms of goalkeeper Paul Bradshaw.

It put the icing on an outstanding display by the Irish dynamo who had opened the floodgates as early as the ninth minute with a telling through pass to enable Frank Stapleton to open the scoring.

Sammy opened his own account after 21 minutes following a poor clearance by Peter Daniel, and then left Paul Bradshaw clutching thin air once again on the hour with a superbly flighted free kick over the defensive

So it was certainly a day to remember for the likeable midfield star.

That was the week that was

Match Weekly takes a fascinating look back at some of the memorable football events that took place this corresponding week in years gone by.

Nov. 1, 1973....

THE Brian Clough and Peter Taylor roadshow arrived at the traditionally reserved south coast resort of Brighton.

Brighton were struggling near the foot of the Third Division and chairman Mike Bamber saw the appointment of Clough and Taylor as the chance to build a great future for the club. Having resigned amid controversy at Derby a fortnight earlier, the now famous managerial team set about reviving the club's fortunes.

Their first game in charge, a goalless draw with York City, attracted a crowd of more than 16,000 to the Goldstone Ground — three times the normal gate and a clear illustration of their magnetic personalities.

Clough and Taylor kept Brighton in the Third Division, but they had to endure such embarrassments as an 8-2 home defeat by Bristol Rovers and a shock FA Cup first round exit at the hands of non-league Walton.

But the Brighton fans continued to come to the ground in droves with crowds regularly topping 15,000 despite the club's lowly position

Within 15 months Clough was on the move again, this time to start the relationship with Nottingham Forest that was to bring him European Cup glory.

Alan Sunderland — transferred to Arsenal four years ago this week.

Sunderland moves for record fee

Nov. 7, 1977....

FRANK Stapleton and Alan Sunderland, the Arsenal strike force which was separated this season with the former's £900,000 move to Manchester United, have good cause to remember this particular week.

It was on November 7, 1977, that Alan Sunderland packed his bags at Wolves and travelled to the bright lights of London to join Arsenal for a then club record fee of £242,000.

It was the start of a productive striking partnership with Republic of Ireland international Frank Stapleton that brought them close on 100 League goals in four seasons.

Apart from that, Arsenal reached three FA

Cup Finals, winning one, and were runners-up in the European Cup Winners' Cup.

Almost exactly a year after Alan's arrival at lighbury (Nov. 4, 1978) Frank chalked up his first-ever League hat-trick in the 4-1 home defeat of Ipswich.

Steve Powell — Derby hero in Spain seven years ago this week.

Powell salvages England's pride

Nov. 6, 1974....

STEVE Powell and Colin Boulton became Derby County heroes in Spain.

Steve was coolness personified with the penalty winner that took Derby into the third round of the UEFA Cup after a dramatic second leg conclusion against Atletico Madrid.

With the match locked at 4-4 on aggregate, it showdown — and it was Derby who came out on top to salvage England's pride in Europe.

Dave Mackay's side won the penalty shoot-out 7-6 with Steve Powell scoring the winner and goalkeners Colin Boulton making a crucial save goalkeeper Colin Boulton making a crucial save from Eusebio to see Derby through.

In the match itself Bruce Rioch and Kevin Hector had scored the Derby goals in a 2-2 draw — an identical result to the one at the Baseball Ground a fortnight earlier when David Nish and Rioch (penalty) were the home scorers.

But the coolness of Powell and the heroics of Boulton were all a dim memory a few weeks later when Derby bowed out to Yugoslav side Velez Mostar 5-4 on aggregate, despite winning the home leg 3-1.

Oct. 31, 1979....

FORMER Liverpool iron man Tommy Smith quit football on medical advice while with John Toshack at Swansea.

I'm currently enjoying my second spell with a south coast club. Now turn to page 23 for the next clue

AUMARINER

IPSWICH and England centre-forward Paul Mariner writes exclusively for you . . . and defends claims that Ipswich have lost their sparkle.

CRISISTALK NONSENS

EVERY time we lose a game at Ipswich there is always talk of a crisis.

It's a situation that has been suffered by Liverpool in recent

But following our 2-1 defeat at Everton, we received a public battering from manager Bobby Robson.

I don't know what the motives were for the blast, but I feel a mountain has been made out of a mole-hill

Having been named the European 'Team of the Year' last season, we have set ourselves very high standards, as Liverpool have done in the past.

I admit that we're not playing with the same fluency and style as last season, but we only lost two of our first ten League matches and we are still among the pacesetters in the First Division.

Ipswich manager Bobby Robson he gave Ipswich a public battering after defeat at Everton.

So talk of a crisis at Portman Road is sheer nonsense and I can assure those doubting followers that Ipswich will be there or thereabouts at the end of the

But, unlike at Liverpool, it appears that all the dirty washing at ipswich has to be hung out in public, and that grates a bit. Certain individual players are not playing to their full potential at the moment, but the balance of the side has been affected by the loss of Scottish striker Alan Brazil through injury.

We have reverted to a conventional 4-3-3 system which we haven't used for around three years and it takes time for the players to find their feet again.
It has meant Eric Gates playing up front, instead of operating behind myself and Alan Brazil, with Kevin O'Callaghan playing

But with George Burley on the ray back from serious injury and Alan Brazil recovering from a foot operation, I'm sure our stutter is only a temporary one.

I felt we played quite well in the first half at Everton even though we turned round 2-1 down.

We always looked like scoring goals even though Eric Gates equaliser was rather scrappy.

But our game fell apart in the second half, mainly in midfield and up front, and therefore pressure was put on our defence

By the time you read this article, no doubt there will have been plenty of talking behind the scenes, but I can tell you now there is no crisis at Portman Road.

With PAUL COOPER
IPSWICH GOALKEEPER

Goalkeeping is a specialist position in a football team. But all too often goalkeeper training is severely neglected.

For the past four years we have provided a unique opportunity for hundreds of young goalkeepers (many of whom have become professionals and some international keepers), from all over Britain to not only be given the specialized coaching and training, but to actually learn from those who are best equipped to teach — the professionals!

Our unique Goalkeeping courses now have an extra too – the NATIONAL GOALKEEPER CENTRE. First of its kind in Europe, our residential sports complex offers the ideal surroundings to bring out your goalkeeping talents to the full.

Course content at the NATIONAL GOALKEEPER CENTRE is thorough and complete. You'll learn how to deal with crosses, diving at opponent's feet, fitness for keepers, handling the ball, plus preparation for free kicks, penalties corners and much, much more. There's training films to watch and question and answer sessions to take part in. What's more, we've got the coaching expertise of top professional keepers under PAUL COOPER to give practical demonstrations – something no text-book can offer.

Each course includes full sleeping and meal arrangements, written assessments and advice on how to enter the game as a professional

For full information clip out the coupon today and send off. Remember. There is nothing else like the NATIONAL GOALKEEPER CENTRE – anywhere. It's got to be the greatest opportunity to bring out your goalkeeping talents that you'll ever know.

MY SECRET DREAD

MILLION-pound striker lan Wallace has told of the secret dread that haunted him in front of goal.

The flame-haired Scottish international scored just 13 goals in 49 games last season and he admitted:

"There were times last season when I dreaded goalscoring chances coming my way in case I made a mess of them
"At the time of my transfer I didn't think the £1 million fee bothered me, but now I'm sure that it did.

"Supporters, quite rightly, expect a lot from a player who costs that much and last season I didn't produce it.

"Thirteen goals in a season is not very many and although it's not for me to judge, I think a lot of Forest fans were wondering if I was worth the money." Were there any doubts, most of them will now have been erased in the early part of this season with lan showing a dramatic return to the goalscoring form that first made him a member of the £1 million lan grabbed a fresh chance at the City Ground following the sale of Trevor Francis to Manchester City.

* Return

 And he averaged a goal a game in his first nine appearances to establish Forest among the First

Division's pace-setters

Division's pace-setters.

Little wonder then that lan now says: "These days I just can't wait for the next match to come round."

Indeed his 'return' has been so successful that he could well find his way back into the World Cup plans of Scotland manager Jock Stein.

But even though that offers

But even though that offers exciting possibilities, all lan is concerned about at present is continuing his goal spree at Forest.

Horest.

He revealed: "Like any player, I enjoy international football, but all I'm thinking about at the moment is keeping up my record of scoring for Forest.

"I had a disappointing time in my first season at the club, but I feel a lot happier and more."

feel a lot happier and more settled now and I think the goals are proving it.

But I must admit that one of the big differences is having someone like Justin Fashanu alongside me.

"I got a lot of goals at Coventry playing alongside Mick Ferguson and I'm sure the big and little partnership has got to be the best. "Last season we didn't have a big man up front and it was strange for me. But having Justin there means that a lot more balls are being played into the box

A moment of joy on a night of despair for Southampton as the ball thumps into the Sporting Lisbon net with goalkeeper Meszaros diving the wrong way. But despite this Kevin Keegan penalty, Saints lost their UEFA Cup, second round first leg tie 4-2 and now have it all to do in next week's away tie.

MATCH previews three of the major matches involving British clubs in next week's Second Round, second leg ties.

Don't write us off yet, warns Hegarty

SCOTTISH League Cup winners Dundee United face one of the toughest tasks of Euro night when they attempt to pull back a two goal deficit against crack West German side Borussia Moenchengladbach.

The Scots looked to be in command of their UEFA Cup first leg in Germany holding their opponents to a 0-0 draw until the 70th minute.

But they conceded two goals in the final 20 minutes of the game to give themselves an uphill battle in the return at Tannadice.

Up to the final 20 minutes we played ever so well and had contained them," said their Scottish international defender Paul Hegarty.

The Germans were very patient and never panicked, even when it looked as though time was running out for them. They continued with their slow build-ups.
"It surprised us a little because we thought they'd come out and attack more," said Paul.

"Playing against one of Europe's top sides really brought the best out of us and I thought we played really well.

Their skipper Hennes was a player who really impressed me. He scored their second goal about four minutes from the end.

'For a big man he was very quick on the ground and he's undoubtedly a dominant figure in the Borussia line-up.

Dundee United's Scottish international defender Paul Hegarty. His side face a tough battle in the return leg against Borussia Moenchengladbach.

"I think we surprised them on the night. They didn't expect us to play as well as we did.

'Of course we face a struggle in the second leg. We've got to get an early goal to make a game of it.

But if we can do that I see no reason why we can't sneak a result," added Paul.

GUNNING FUR GUALS

ARSENAL will be hoping to end their goal drought in time for the second leg of their UEFA Cup Second Round tie against Belgians, Winterslag

The Gunners, who've struggled to score regularly since the departure of Frank Stapleton to Manchester United in the close season, have to score at least two goals to progress into the next round.

They lost the first leg in Belgium 1-U on a rain-soaked pitch, but their Welsh international Peter Nicholas admits tie at Highbury.

'The conditions were awful on the night. It had rained for a full 24 hours before the game and the referee only decided to play after a final pitch inspection 15 minutes before kick-off.''

Arsenal v Winterslag

The midfield star admits that before the draw for the Second Round was made he'd never even heard of Winterslag

But he'll remember them in future as a young side with plenty of skill

"Even though the conditions were difficult they showed a lot of skill," said Peter, who joined the 'Gunners' from Crystal Palace last season.

"They seem to have grown up together, because they play very well for each other and are very determined. We certainly won't underestimate them at Highbury."

Peter Nicholas of Arsenal: "We missed a lot of good chances against Winterslag."

- we could so easily have lost, says Swain

KENNY Swain, Aston Villa's talented full-back, spent a frustrating time in the stand at Berlin — watching the First Division Champions stake a major claim for a Quarter-Final place in the European Cup with a superb 2-1 victory.

"It doesn't make the second leg a formality on Wednesday, but it means Dynamo have to win 2-0, and there are not many teams who manage that at Villa Park," says Kenny, who failed a late fitness test before the away leg.

''But it could have been a different story had they taken

"Tony Morley got us off to a flying start with a goal inside five minutes, but they equalised early in the second half and then Jimmy Rimmer saved a penalty.

line to snatch a brilliant winner.
"I think we would have settled

"I think we would have settled for a 1-1 scoreline with the home leg to come, but getting that late winner was a real bonus."

Kenny wasn't particularly impressed with the East German champions.

"I must admit I expected a much harder time behind the Iton Curtain," he says.

A FEW months ago Walsall saved their Third Division status by virtue of a Don Penn penalty decider on the last day of the season.

The victims were Sheffield United, who as a result of the 1-0 home defeat, were dumped into the Fourth Division for the first dumped into the Fourth Division for the first time in their history.

But now that air of despondency over Fellows Park has been replaced by a cloud of optimism as Walsall, with virtually the same players, push for promotion.

It's almost as if player-manager Alan Buckley has waved a magic wand, but as he points out, he never doubted the ability of the squad.

the squad.

"I always felt we were in a false position last season," says the long-serving striker. "Our problems were mainly inflicted by injuries which never allowed us to have a settled team.

settled team.

"I also felt the players never played to their full potential as individuals. I knew they were capable of much better performances and this season they are proving that.

"The appointment of former Derby and Nottingham Forest centre forward Neil Martin as general manager has also made a difference on the training side.

"His methods have made us very fit and good performances after our home defeat by Southend on the opening day have by Southend on the opening day have boosted confidence no end.

"We are playing well and I see no reason why we can't maintain this fine start to the season."

. . from relegation fodder to promotion candidates

The appointment of Neil Martin, after a spell in the Middle East, has also given Alan's own form a boost.

"For most of last season I was organising the training and so I wasn't getting involved as much as I should have for a 30-year-old,"

"As a result my performances suffered on the field, but now I'm feeling more like my old self after a sticky first four games. "With Neil to organise the training and assist in other matters around the club, it means that I can resume my duties as a player."

A lot of Walsall's success this season stems from the signing of midfield player Kenny Beech from Port Vale, and the transformation of midfield player Peter Hart into a 'sweeper'.

"In my opinion Kenny Beech has proved a snip at £8,000," says Alan. "He's doing a terrific job in the middle of the field with his ball winning capacity.

Walsall player-manager Alan Buckley — "I always felt we were in a false position last

"And Peter Hart's switch to the defence alongside Dave Serella has made us much tighter at the back.

"Last season we had the worst defensive record in the Third Division and gave away goals like Christmas presents.

"But this season we conceded only six in the first ten matches and now opponents are just not looking like scoring against us.

"We are a very fit team with a nice mixture of youth and experience.

"The youngsters have big engines and are working hard and I see no reason why we can't remain near the top of the table."

The record breakers

SHEFFIELD United have been involved in two record-breaking Fourth Division transfer deals this season.

They paid £90,000 for Peterborough goalkeeper Keith Waugh at the beginning of the season which was a record deal between two Fourth Division clubs.

The new Preston manager paraded no fewer than four new signings in the recent goalless draw at Bristol City.

Following an indifferent start to their bid to recover their Second Division status at the first attempt, the 'Doc' raided the market to spend a total of £107,500 on Manchester City pair Tommy Booth (£30,000) and Gary Buckley (£30,000), Tranmere winger John Kelly (£35,000) and Sunderland forward Barry Dunn (£12,500).

And on the early season form of both teams, ipswich look good to make it three League victories in a row over their West Midland rivals.

Villa managed just ten points from a possible 30 in their opening ten matches while lpswich collected 20 points.

Villa's home record this term has been anything but Championship winning form with just one victory over West Ham.

I'M outraged that the media is continually telling us England won't make it to the World Cup finals and saying what a crisis we are in. Rubbish!. England haven't made the last two finals.

They've never been good.

M. Littlewood, Aston, Sheffield.

● You're off! We were the best team in the world in 1966 and we can be the best again. England need fans like you like they need a punctured football!

Ipswich are rubbish!

I'M outraged about your comments in the October 10 issue when you said Ipswich would win the League this season. Utter rubbish!

Ipswich lost to Southampton after being two goals up and also lost to Everton.

The only thing they'll win is relegation while they watch Liverpool storm to the title.

Lee Burrows (11), Marlow, Bucks.

 I never said Ipswich would go the whole season without losing a game! Those two defeats were just the thing to spark of Town's best form and your booked for arguing.

I'M outraged that everyone assumes England will now qualify for the World Cup. I forecast they will lose 2-0 against Hungary in November and once again Scotland will be Britain's only representatives in the finals. Duncan Murray, Woodthorpe, Nottingham.

 Well you are wrong — on both counts. Scotland may have qualified three times running, but they haven't done much when they've got to the finals. You're booked made my day

MY most memorable day was on June 12, 1980, when I went on a trip with my team, Beacon Park Wanderers, to Oulton Park race track for a special Ray Clemence testimonial meeting.

My team was there as special quests of Hitachi and Liverpool because we were to receive some soccer kit from Ray Clemence.

Also present were David Johnson, Sammy Lee, Alan Kennedy, Mike Lyons and comedian George Roper.
The moment I'll never forget is when Ray and I faced the cameras. Ray said: "Smile kiddo."

I came back home with all sorts of prized possessions such as autographs, a signed print of Ray, photo's and best of all memories.

Andrew Warrington, Handsacre,

The 'goof' was sent in by Maris Papanastasion, of Millwell, London.

> League. Arsenal shoudl certainly hiave been in front before James rifled a tremendous right footer past Pat Jennings in the 389th minute.

Atkinson's big blunder

MAN. UTD manager Ron Atkinson made a mistake when he bought full-back John Gidman from Everton.

There was no need for him to go into the transfer market because he already had a very good full back on his books . . Northern Ireland international Jimmy Nicholl.

But that blunder was partly rectified by the signing of Frank Stapleton from Arsenal. We needed a big centre forward to replace Joe Jordan and Frank is one of the best.

Too optimistic

I WAS shocked by the comments of Manchester United midfielder Ray Wilkins following Switzerland's World Cup win over Rumania.

He said he felt that England could beat Hungary and even go all the way and win the World Cup in Spain.

This was exactly the type of optimism taken before the Switzerland game . . . and where did that get us? Gary Martin (13), Garston, Watford, Herts.

chance of qualifying for the World Cup Finals in Spain.
Once again we find that our destiny is in our own hands following Switzerland's fabulous victory over Rumania. It's crucial that England

manager Ron Greenwood

selects the right side for this vital game against Hungary at Wembley on Wednesday November 18.

He surely knows now that the best 11 players in the country don't make the best team so he's got to pick players who he knows can play well together.

That's why I believe he should play a complete back four from one club — or as many as possible from one team. The same goes for the midfield and forwards.

He should know what team he's going to play before the players gather for their week of preparation and give that team as much chance to play together as possible.
If he does this I'm sure

England can win the game, restore pride in our national game and help us reclaim our rightful place on top of the football world.

Northumberland.

WHO do you think Ron should pick for this vital game? Write in with your England team for our World Cup qualifier.

England defender Kenny Sansom

Gunners have class

STOP slating Arsenal! They're not the boring team people think.

I'm a regular fan at Highbury and fail to see how a club with such talented players as Graham Rix, Kenny Sansom, Pat Jennings and David O'Leary can be classed as boring.

I bet that if they won 6-0 critics would still accuse them of playing defensive football.

I know I'm a 'mere' girl but I can tell class when I see it! Paula Lindsay, Basildon, Essex.

it was a relief when the axe finally came

DROPPED for the first time in my career at United and to be honest I was glad!

In a strange way it was a relief when United boss Ron Atkinson told me that he was leaving me

There had been a lot of speculation as to who would drop out of the side following the arrival Bryan Robson and myself and Sammy McIlroy were the main contenders.

The axe had been hanging over me for about three weeks and the pressure was building up so in one way it was good to know where I

I didn't like being dropped. It made me angry. But as soon as Ron broke the bad news to me I made up my mind to fight for my first team place back.

In retrospect I should never have played the first five or six games of the season. I wasn't fit and didn't do myself justice.

Of the games I've played when I've been fully fit I reckon I've had three good ones and three bad ones.... no in-betweens. out of the team to face Manchester City at Maine Road.

ones . . . no in-betweens.

When I was left out of the side it only added fuel to the wild rumours that I would be leaving Old Trafford as the manager tried to balance the books after spending so much on new players.

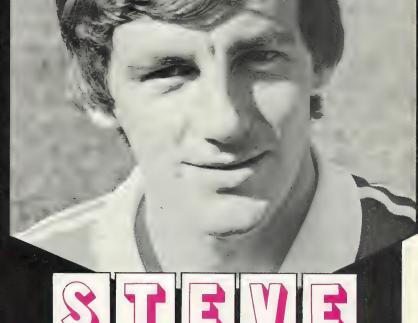

I didn't like being dropped. It

These rumours have been horrible. Let me say here and now I don't want to leave Manchester United.

My contract at Old T. doesn't end until July and I intend to see it through . . . in the first team!

Of course it's flattering when you hear that clubs like Arsenal, West Ham and Coventry are prepared to part with a lot of money to buy you, but that hasn't money to buy you, but that hasn't altered my determination to stay.

I felt very proud that Dave Sexton wanted me. No-one knows ***********

My spell in the wilderness didn't last long because I came on in the first half against City after an injury to striker Garry Birtles.
I kept my place for the game against Birmingham and celebrated by scoring my first goal for 30 games.

for 30 games.

My last one was at Norwich City

ten months ago so you can imagine how I felt when I saw the ball in the back of the net.
Obviously my goal drought wasn't as important to the team as Garry Birtles' goal-less spell, but now I know what he must have felt like.

lean spell was a little worrying.

But Birmingham's Frank
Worthington made a valid point after their 1-1 draw with us at Old

Trafford.
The shrewd old campaigner said that United were going out onto the pitch expecting things to happen instead of trying to make them happen.

With so many internationals in the side it's easy to fall into that trap and it's something we must guard against.

This Saturday sees us at home to First Division newcomers Notts County, who were everyone's tip to go straight back down at the beginning of the season.

WATFORD — riding high at the top of the Second Division — can only get

That's the view of their experienced
Northern Ireland International Gerry Armstrong, who says: "You haven't seen the best of us yet.
"There's some young lads here with so much to offer that I believe we'll improve as the season goes on."

And Gerry believes that youth, mixed And Gerry believes that youth, mixed with the experience of players like himself, skipper Pat Rice and defender lan Bolton, could push Watford into the First Division for the first time in the club's history.

"There's a tremendous squad of players at Vicarage Road and I believe we've got all the qualities to make a serious challenge for promotion.

challenge for promotion.

"It's essential that a club has strength in depth and players in the reserves who can come in to the first team without upsetting the rhythm. We've got that this season," said Gerry.

Players like Martin Patching, Eric Steele,
Malcolm Poskett, Ray Train and Wilf Rostron have all made way for the youngsters who've given Watford their best start for years.

After ten matches the club found themselves battling with their neighbours and arch rivals Luton for the leadership of

One youngster to quickly make his mark has been 17-year-old midfielder John Barnes. Gerry says of him: "He's got skill, balance and a natural left foot."

That 'natural left foot' had scored three times up to October 24, including two in Watford's 3-0 home win over Orient Continued Gerry: "We knew from experience last season that Steve Terry was a capable central defender and he's proved it again this term while Steve Sims has been out.

Gerry knows all about what it takes to get out of the Second Division. He helped his previous club Spurs to do it in 1977-78, so his experience could be vital to the youngsters.

"There's a lot of pressure on a youngster when he first makes it in the team. You find that they freeze because they're

They don't show what they can really do because they're too busy trying to do the right things.

"I just encourage them to go out and be positive. Play naturally and don't worry about the opposition — that's the key."

And Gerry will be telling the young members of the team that they've got to battle to get out of the Second Division.

'It doesn't matter how much skill you've got. There are going to be games when you've got to fight hard.

"When Tottenham won promotion we were the best footballing side in the division, but we still had to fight."

This season could turn out to be the most memorable of Gerry's career with Watford highly placed for promotion and Northern Ireland favourites to join Scotland as their World cup group's representatives in Spain.

"We've suddenly been pulled out of the fire by Sweden's great win in Portugal and now have a tremendous chance of going to the World Cup finals.

They went down 3-2 in Salonika to goals from Lerby, Arnesen and Elkjaer. Greece's from Lerby for Kovic and Apastonoulas

Colombia fear disgrace

COLOMBIA'S elimination from the World Cup may have dealt a serious blow to their interest in staging the 1986 finals.

Many members of the South American country's parliament believe it would be a national disgrace to play second fiddle to other teams on their own soil.

As one member put it: "Unless we have a better national team, we would be spending large sums of money to pay for our own disgrace."

Most fans suffer from the nightmare that Colombia would automatically qualify for the 1986 Finals as hosts and then lose all their matches.

Colombia finished bottom of their qualifying section behind Peru and Uruguay.

Poland qualify

POLAND became the second European team to qualify for next year's World Cup finals in Spain.

They completed the double over their main rivals, East Germany, by winning 3-2 in Leipzig.

With only one team to qualify from Group Seven, they are now four points clear of the Germans who have just one game to play.

Medal for Maradona

DIEGO Maradona's first season with Boca Juniors, following his massive transfer from Argentinos Juniors, has ended with a League Championship medal.

But how long Maradona stays at Boca is a matter of some speculation.

matter of some speculation.

The club can't really afford to keep the brilliant striker and are still striving to pay his transfer fee of more than £2 million.

Blow for France

FRENCH World Cup hopes could be hit by the continuing absence of star winger Dominique Rochteau — once the darling of St Etienne.

A sequence of injuries and strains in his right leg have kept him out of the game since last season.

He seems certain to be out of action with his club, Paris Saint Germain and the national side, until at least Christmas.
